

This list will hopefully give you a few ideas. It is not an official list of approved music and does not include every possible hymn.

The wishes of a dead person are always the first starting point – wishes which may have been written down or be otherwise known because the deceased had a favourite hymn or hymns.

Modern Hymns and Songs***

O the love of my Lord
Go, silent friend
Be still and know I am with you
Be not afraid
I am the bread of life
How great thou art
Jesu, son of Mary
Like a child rests
There is a longing in our hearts
Unless a grain of wheat
On eagle's wings
Yahweh, I know you are near
We walk by faith

Traditional Hymns***

Thine be the glory
Be thou my vision
Abide with me
For all the saints
All my hope on God is founded
Firmly I believe and truly
Lead, kindly light
Guide me, O thou great redeemer
O Jesus, I have promised

Soul of my Saviour
Now the green blade riseth
Lord of all hopefulness
Praise to the holiest in the height
O God, our help in ages past
Praise we our God with joy
Sing with all the saints in glory
I heard the voice of Jesus say

Taizé chants

In the Lord I'll be ever thankful
Jesus, remember me
Bless the Lord, my soul
O Christe, Domine Jesu
O Lord, hear my prayer

Latin Requiem Mass

Some parts (In paradisum, Requiem Aeternam, Sanctus and Agnus Dei) can be found in Music for the Funeral Rite (MFR, McCrimmon 1990) and Laudate (Decani Music, 1999.)

Psalms

As in many places on Sundays, to have a Responsorial Psalm sung, a singer will be needed.

Some modern psalm settings are:

Requires a singer

Psalm 22(23): Because the Lord is my shepherd (Walker)

or Shepherd me, O God (Haugen)

Psalm 41(42): As the deer longs (Hurd) or

O God. for you I long (Farrell)

Psalm 62(63): Your love is finer than life (Haugen)

If there is no singer available, these psalm may be sung by everybody present as a hymn or song:

Psalm 102(103): Praise, my soul,
the King of heaven

Psalm 22(23): The Lord's my shepherd or The king of love my shepherd is

Psalm 41(42): As longs the deer

Alleluia

The Gospel Acclamation is important as it prepares everyone to listen to the Gospel. Most people will know the Easter (or Paschal) alleluia and if there is someone to start it off, the organist or the priest, will join in. In Lent the Gospel Acclamation is not Alleluia but 'Praise to you O Christ, King of eternal glory' or a similar verse.

Mass Settings

The Holy, Holy, Memorial Acclamation and Great Amen should be sung at Mass if at all possible.

Songs of Farewell

Saints of God (MFR, nos. 21 & 44)

May the choirs of angels

I know that my redeemer lives (MFR, Laudate)

Procession from Church

May God the Father look on you (Laudate)

May flights of angels (MFR)

May choirs of angels welcome you (MFR)

In paradisum (Latin Requiem)

May the angels lead you into paradise (MFR)
